The Wyandotte County Representative Tells How He Was Approached by a Man Who Offered Him Big Money to Stay Away From the Legislature When Martin Was Elected Senator.

WASHINGTON, March 21. - Repre-

A man came to meet me just before the elecover at the Copeland hotel. This was in Topeka I went to meet him to see what he wanted. He said he figured that there would be eighty-three votes in the Populist crowd for stay away from our crowd and not vote and get two more members to stay away.

He and I finally settled on $7,500 as the amount to be paid. He said he did not have the money with him but could get it out of Watson who had come down from Lawrence and wanted to be senator and was said to have and vote for Martin right through. So did the other two. All we aimed at was to get that $7,500 in our pockets then they could whistle. So I said: 'We don't want any one to hold. the money; you must give it to me.' But the man said no some one must be agreed on to hold it until after the vote. As I could not budge him, at last I named an Arzentine man to soon as he got the $7,500 in his pocket to start out with it. So the Argentine man went over to the Copeland and seen the man I had been trying to deal with. At first he said he would give him the money and they went up to his room to get it. But at last the man laid down and would not give up the money and my Arzentine man came away without it.

TWO TAME AFFAIRS. The Pugilistic Exhibitions at Coney Island a Great Farce.

CONEY ISLAND, N. Y., March 21.-A small crowd witnessed the boxing conest last night between Billy McCarthy of Australia and Jack McGee of Boston for $1,000, and George Dixon, the featherweight champion, and George Siddons of New Orleans. McCarthy and McGee fought ten rounds at the middle weight limit. The contest between these men was the preliminary performance and began at 8:30 o'clock. The contest was declared a draw after considerable stiff fighting in which honors were easy.

The contestants in the first bout were not out of the ring a minute before George Dixon appeared with Tom O'Rourke and took a seat in a corner occupied by McGee. Cheer after cheer greeted the little colored boy as he bowed and acknowledged the greetings from all over the house. While sentative Burgard of Kansas yesterday waiting for Siddons to appear the made the following statement to a re- seconds of the men were named porter in regard to the Kansas bribery as follows: Tom O'Rourke, Eddy Daly and Sam Ashe, for Dixon and Billy Dacey, Danny McBride and tion of senator and wanted me to meet a man Jack Siddons for Siddons, John Eckhardt was the referee.
